Mr. Gunst was also opposed to the post-nonement. There should be no dilly-dallying on this question, he declared, and that there should be some action taken at once.

Mr. Washer withdrew his motion to table and Mr. Seay said that he was placing the entire responsibility upon the School Board and taking none himself. With this explanation he said he would vote for the new site.

Alderman Zimmer moved to table the resolution selecting Mr. Charles K. Bry ant as the architect for the constructio of the new high school. He said in explanation that some specific amount should be named for the architectural work on the building.

Mr. Seay wanted the matter to go to the Committee on Ordinance, Charter and Reform, and there be considered carefully.

Reform, and there be considered that this matter should be disposed of at once and the school board should be trusted to see that the work was properly done.

Mr. Minor offered a substitute motion to make the compensation for the architect not to exceed five per cent. on the amount expended for the building. This, he said, fixes the price for the architect, and should be satisfactory to the Board. President Turpin spoke in favor of the resolution being sent to the Finance Committee to be considered, with the recommendation that the architect's compensation not exceed five per cent.

For Handling Smallpox.

For Handling Smallpox.

Before going into the annexation matter, a motion to adopt the resolution appropriating $1.00 to relieve the smallpox situation, was made and carried.

The resolution was adopted by the Common Council, and approved by the Health Committee.

Intense silence prevailed when Clerk August began to read the ordinance providing for the annexation of contiguous territory to Richmond. Upon a motion of Mr. Minor, the full reading of the measure was dispensed with, Mr. Minor said that there were no members of the body who did not understand the ordinance, and that there should be no amendments thereto or any wrangling, but that the measure should be passed as it was. He explained the ordinance and showed wherein it differed from the ordinance known as the Mills' plan, air, Minor read a letter from Colonel Cutshaw, in which the ordinance was approved.

In answer to a question from Mr. Zimproved.

In answer to a question from Mr. Zimmerman, Mr. Minor said that the law providing for annexation said that plants annexed must be on a line of development and not taken for the taxes. The Cedar Warks and the Locomotive Works, he declared, were not on a line of the city's development and were therefore not included in the ordinance.

Mr. Blair then offered an amendment to change the line so that the manufacturing sites in the northwestern portion of the city would not be taken in. A like resolution was offered in the Common Council and was defeated by a close yote.

Dabney's Bold Charge.

Dabney's Bold Charge.

The paper from the manufacturers agreeing to allow the city the right to do work on Bacon, Quarter Branch brought Alderman Dabney to his feet with an appeal in behalf of the citizens for progressiveness for Richmond and "independent of the creek proposition I rest my opinion upon the Anderson law that you must annex for development and not for revenue," said Mr. Dabney. The only question was the exclusion from the city limits of the abbattolr, he said. But the lines should not be drawp, for the sake of an individual.

"I make this statement that this amendment is offered in the interest of Mr. Rosenegk, the stove works and the other plants up there, and not in the interest of greater Richmond," declared Mr. Dabney, with emphasis.

"You can explain to the contrary, if you can," continued Mr. Dabney, seeaking directly to Mr. Blair, author of the amendment to leave the factories in question out of the annexation plants. It was not democratic, he declared, to give special privileges to any one as against any other person or persons.

Mr. Blair Replies.

Mr. Blair Replies.

Mr. Blair replied to the arguments against his amendment in a heated speech. He declared that the city would be standing in the way of enterprise if the ordinance was passed.

Mr. Zimmermann favored the amendment of Mr. Blair.

Mr. Minor said that it would be discrimination to exempt these factories from taxation and at the same time assess other factories that located here in the future. This body should not legislate in the interest of individuals against the majority, said Mr. Minor.

Cries for question were heard and the vote on the amendment was taken, first by viva voce. A division was called for, and the roll was called.

The Blair amendment, exempting the manufacturing sites, was adopted by a vote of 13 to 5, the vote being as follows: Ayes—Messrs. Adams. Blair, Burton, Cottrell, Grundy, Mann, Satterfield, Seay, Washer, Whittet, Wood, Zimmermann at Turpin—12.

Noes—Messrs. Beck, Dabney, Gilman, urpin-12. Noes-Messrs. Beck, Dabney, Gilman unst and Minor-5.

Mr. Washer then offered an amendment to take in a portion of the Sterns and Garber properties in the East End. There was no discussion, and the amendment was lost by a vote of it noes to 4 ayes, Messrs. Dubney, Gunst, Mann and Satterfield voting in the affirmative.

As amended the ordinance was then adopted with a vote of 15 to 3, Messrs. Beck, Dabney and Washer voting in the negative.

The ordinance will now have to go bacy to the Common Council for concur-rence in the amendment before it goes to rence in the amendment before it goes to the Mayor.

As a result of an unknown miscreant's deed yesterday afternoon about 230. Mrs. David G. Whitehead, of Ashkuid, Va., whose husband is vice-president of the Everett Waddey Company, almost mirraculously escaped death.

An empty whiskey barrel stood in front of James Thompson's establishment, No. 20 Fast Brood Street, Thinking to create a little excitement, 'ad'negro passing by threw a lighted match into the barrel, which immediately blazed up, causing a terrific explosion. The outlandish noise, frightened a blind horse, belonging to Mr. W. B. Wells, No. 306 Linden Street, which stood attached to a buggy in front of Mn. Thompson's place. The startled animol ran obliquely across the street, and dashed headlong into the handsoine $200 show case of the Richmond Art Company, No. 5 West Broad Street, shattering the case and smashing the buggs. Mrs. Whitehead, who was passing, was caught between the shaft and the horse and was hurled through the vestibule into the store, Luckily she escaped with a bruised arm and a severe shock. Within half an hour after the residence of her sister, Mrs. H. Seldon Taylor, No. 708 West Grace Street. She was nervous after her fright.

The horse was badly cut about the neck and shoulders, and may have to be killed.

LILY WHITE CONVENTION. Richmond City Made a Concession to Brother in Black. Sion to Brother in Black.

Six delegates were elected Thursday by the Republicans of Richmond to the Republican State Convention at Romoke next Tuesday, August 8th, Instead of five, as stated yesterday, Mr. M. L. Sutherland was the sixth delogate chosen.

The Republicans of Norfolk sent a solid white delegation to the Romoke Convention, as did those of Goochiand county. Richmond city would also have done so, but being the home of Judge Lewis, the conceded normine for Governor, the white Republicans of the off made this concession to the other faction in order that there might a harmolous delegation for the lafts, a larmolous delegation for the lafts, or the property of the sent announced by the last.

there might a harmonious delegation for the judge. It has not yet been announced, if it has been decided, who will be recommended for temporary chairman of the conven-tion, nor for permanent chairman. South-west Virginia can get almost anything it desires at the hands of the convention, however.

ST. PAUL, MINN., August 4.—Although the strike of telegraphers on the Great Northern and the Northern Patrick of the Strike of the St in the Richmond bakeries, is meeting with violent opposition on the part of the local bakers.

When seen last night Mr. J. J. Mattern, of the concern of L. Hronam, a prominent baker, said: "The bakers are against the DonLeavy measure, which proposes to standardize the size of the bread load; made in Richmond. The plan is not feasible, for it is legislating against the private rights of citizens. It is not possible to charge more than five cents per loaf for bread, and therefore the load must change in size as the price of four rises or falls. If four is cheap five cents will purchase a small loaf. This is common sense, and any one can appreciate the truth of the matter.

"If there is passed an ordinance requiring the bakers to make a loaf of a certain size, it will be just as proper to make the newspapers publish a paper of a certain dealer to sell swe pounds of soap for five cents, or to force a soap dealer to sell two pounds of soap for five cents.

"The bakers are opposed to the plan and have taken no part in circulating the subscription lists that are being advocated by Mr. DonLeavy and his friends.

"The baker who gives the best bread and the most bread for five cents should get the trade, and the Council should not interfere."
